"National Voter's Day"

The 13th national Voter Day was observed in the college. The students were made aware of the importance of vote" in democratic set up. and message was given to the students that if they have attained the age of 18, they are entitled to cast their vote constitutionally. They must use their "right to vote" responsibly and intelligently and not under the compulsions of caste, creed, faith belief etc.

They were also told that vote is not just a vote but a skill that you give to a particular political party and that ~~mu~~ forms the majority in assembly and parliament and form the government. Actually entire political system is run through voting system. In today's world, huge population is there and it is difficult for them to cast vote by ballot, so that's why EVM machines have been introduced to deal with this tough situation.

Our Professor Dr Ramandeep expressed her valuable views on Voter's importance especially women. Our worthy and respected principal and teachers were there. The oath ceremony was also conducted on this day as well.

Samparan School of destitutes, Parantaran Organised an exhibition in our college in order to sell their hand-made t-shirts, lowers and sweaters at cheap rates. Our NSS volunteers co-operated with them for arranging this event. It was a great experience for them.

Samparan School endeavours to manage or earn their livelihood not by getting donation or any other kind of help from other but by making and selling their hand-made products. This sense make them self-dependent and responsible for themselves. They also give a message to entire community to be self-dependant and do labour in life for livelihood. It was really a marvellous experience for our volunteers, college students and one and all.
